I have also been told that I am an excellent active listener without having an agenda.

My coaching process takes specific professional concerns, personal goals and analyzes where you are in your situation. I will lend my expertise to find the best action steps in order to correct issue(s) and recommend avenues for achieving objectives.

ABOUT ERIC MILLER CBPRC, NLP

Growing up in a single parent home in Quincy Ill., Eric Miller quickly adopted the mindset that "if it was to be, it was up to me." He served 8 years in the U.S. Army as an aviator and certified instructor.

Eric has been an athlete all of his life. Road cycling and mountain biking have been his passion over the last 25 years. There are a few things that gets his blood pumping. One of those things was competing as a USA licensed cyclist. The thrill of competition brought him his share of broken bones and road rashes. Having the attitude of being unstoppable in going after the win, carried over into his career.

Eric received a great education and learned many lessons, some of them more painful than others. Throughout his successful 24-year career, he studied what it takes for an individual to reach their full potential. The "winners" have the common traits of resilience and having a well calibrated compass that guides them through the storms of life.

*Today Eric Miller CBPRC, NLP is Certified in Bio- Communications Perception Reframing, Neuro-Linguistic Programming, and Life Coaching.
Eric is passionate about helping his clients to reach top human performance.*
